Dear Larry:

I ran across the attached old letter which was in line with our conversation some time ago.

Best regards,

On Thursday, April 14th, it was my pleasure to attend the local meeting of the A.S.T.E. Chapter at which Mr. W. L. Healey of your Department was the featured speaker, choosing as his subject, "Simplified Drafting".

I would like to take this opportunity to advise you that Mr. Healey's talk was received with real enthusiasm by the members of this organization who were present, and I learned thru discussion with several of the members after the meeting that some of those present had heard Mr. Healey on previous occasions, - one gentleman even stated it was the fourth time he had had the pleasure of listening to this talk.

The companies represented at this meeting, and the level of the company personnel in attendance, were such that the General Electric Co. as a whole, and the GE monogram, most certainly benefited from the evening. On more than one occasion since that meeting, I have received complimentary remarks from customers' personnel on the quality of both the material in the presentation, and Mr. Healey's manner of presenting it. Mr. Walter Fraser, of the Purchasing Department of National Lock Co., is quite active on the Program Committee of this organization, and has been in touch with me, personally, within the last few days to once again express the appreciation of the organization for Mr. Healey's efforts.

I am certain that Mr. Healey's visit here has been of valuable assistance to us commercially, and I wish to thank you for making it possible for him to attend.
