Feminist Periodicals

A current listing of contents

Volume 25, Number 2 (Summer 2005)

Periodical literature is the cutting edge of women's scholarship, feminist theory, and much of women's culture. Feminist Periodicals: A Current Listing of Contents is published by the Office of the University of Wisconsin System Women's Studies Librarian on a quarterly basis with the intent of increasing public awareness of feminist periodicals. It is our hope that Feminist Periodicals will serve several purposes: to keep the reader abreast of current topics in feminist literature; to increase readers' familiarity with a wide spectrum of feminist periodicals; and to provide the requisite bibliographic information should a reader wish to subscribe to a journal or to obtain a particular article at her library or through interlibrary loan. (Users will need to be aware of the limitations of the new copyright law with regard to photocopying of copyrighted materials.)

Table of contents pages from current issues of major feminist journals are reproduced in each issue of Feminist Periodicals, preceded by a comprehensive annotated listing of all journals we have selected. As publication schedules vary enormously, not every periodical will have table of contents pages reproduced in each issue of FP. The annotated listing provides the following information on each journal:

1. Year of first publication.
2. Frequency of publication.
3. U.S. subscription price(s).
4. Subscription address.
5. Current editor.
6. Editorial address (if different from subscription address).
7. International Standard Serials Number (ISSN).
8. OCLC, Inc. Control Number.
9. Selected publications in which the journal is indexed.
10. Selected fulltext products in which publication appears or vendor intermediaries who make the full text available.
11. Subject focus/statement of purpose of the journal.

Please note that in the actual text, only the numbers 1 to 11 are used to identify the different categories of information.

Our goal in FP is to represent English-language periodicals from around the world that focus on women's studies or women's issues. Generally, we do not include mainstream newsstand magazines. We are also unable to include periodicals that lack a complete table of contents. We encourage feminist serials to build a full table of contents into their regular format to facilitate possible inclusion in FP and indexing elsewhere.

Interested readers will find more complete information on feminist periodicals in DWM: A Directory of Women's Media, published by the National Council for Research on Women (530 Broadway at Spring Street, New York, NY 10012); and in Women's Periodicals and Newspapers: A Union List of the Holdings of Madison Area Libraries, edited by James P. Danky and compiled by Maureen E. Hady, Barry Christopher, and Neill E. Strache (Boston: G.K. Hall, 1982).

Suggestions for improvements of Feminist Periodicals are gratefully received. We would particularly appreciate assistance from readers in the UW System with our efforts to keep the holding information complete and up to date. Please let us know about new subscriptions, subscriptions we have overlooked, cancellations, or other pertinent information. Feminist Periodicals is also available on microfilm at the library of the State Historical Society of Wisconsin.

University of Wisconsin System users: To locate these periodicals within the UW System, do a UW System/Universal Borrowing search from your campus catalog (labeled variously "Other Libraries," "More Libraries," "Other Catalogs," "Other UW Catalogs," etc.) If information on actual holdings (volumes and issues) is not in the records retrieved, contact the Reference Department for each library of interest:

11. "The Berkeley Women's Law Journal is guided by an editorial policy that distinguishes us from other law reviews and feminist periodicals. Our mandate is to publish research, analysis, narrative, theory, and commentary that address the lives and struggles of underrepresented women. We believe that excellence in feminist legal scholarship requires critical examination of the intersection of gender with one or more other axes of subordination, including, but not limited to, race, class, sexual orientation, and disability. Therefore, discussions of women's issues that treat women as a monolithic group do not fall within our mandate. Because conditions in inequality are continually changing, our mandate is also continually changing."

11. "The Columbia Journal of Gender and Law was founded to publish legal and interdisciplinary writings on feminism and gender issues and to expand feminist jurisprudence. Both national and international in focus, the Journal is intended to serve as a forum for topics inadequately addressed in most law journals and reviews, including issues concerning women, children, family, sexuality, reproductive rights, and violence. The articles in JGL approach legal issues from a variety of disciplines. We aim to promote an expansive view of feminism embracing women and men of all colors, classes, sexual orientations, and cultures."

11. "Feminist Studies was founded to encourage analytic responses to feminist issues and to open new areas of research, criticism and speculation.

The editors are committed to providing a forum for feminist analysis, debate, and exchange. The feminist movement has demonstrated that the study of women is more than a compensatory project. Instead, feminism has the potential fundamentally to reshape the way we view the world. We wish not just to interpret women's experiences but to change women's condition. For us, feminist thought represents a transformation of consciousness, social forms, and modes of action."

"Femspec, a peer-reviewed journal, is interested in developing a community of like-minded people engaged in speculating, theorizing, creating and questioning gender across the boundaries, including issues of sexual orientation. We emphasize interdisciplinary approaches, and encourage work on teaching as well as literary and cultural criticism and creative material. We hope an approach to pedagogy will bring in work from a wider area of disciplines. We are interested in a variety of feminisms and aim to be inclusive of ethnic and cultural diversity in an internationalist perspective. We are also committed to publishing feminist experimental prose and poetic works, and to experimenting across media. Our impetus came from the collectively-perceived lack of attention to non-linear writing, sf, fantasy, magical realism and supernatural works in feminist journals and audiences; the lack of consistently evolving developed levels of feminism in sf criticism; and the inadequacy of magical realism publishing outlets in the US."

11. "The aim of Gender, Place & Culture is to provide the focal point for recent work concerned with gender issues in geography and related disciplines. Key concerns in this area include the following: geographical variations in gender divisions and structures of patriarchy; the cultural construction and the cultural politics of gender; the intersections between gender, 'race', ethnicity, nationality, sexuality, class, age and other social divisions. The journal will provide a forum for debate in human geography and related disciplines on these themes. By drawing together these contributions, the journal will highlight the relevance of geographical research to feminism and women's studies."

Appropriately social sciences research is reflecting this increasing concern with gender, especially in the field of work and organization where this journal is focused. Gender, Work and Organization is the first journal to bring together a wide range of interdisciplinary and multi-disciplinary research in this field into a new international forum for debate and analysis. The journal is dedicated to advancing theory, research and applications concerning gender relations at work, the organization of gender, and the gendering of organizations. Contributions are invited from all disciplinary perspectives, including anthropology, history, labour economics, law, philosophy, politics, psychology and sociology."

The aim of Reproductive Health Matters is "to promote laws, policies, research and services that meet women's reproductive health needs and support women's right to decide whether, when and how to have children.... [its] women-centered perspective.. allows us to identify and understand women's reproductive health needs, and therefore evaluate and improve on existing policy and practice to women's benefit.... To this end, the journal explores what is meant by women's needs and how these can best be met. It addresses fundamental values, concerns and dilemmas, acknowledging the multi-faceted nature of problems and solutions. Finally, it reflects on commonalities and differences in goals and points of view among those involved in the field -- in order to foster increased communication and cooperation, new thinking and action, and new forms of consensus."

11. "Studies in Gender and Sexuality is a response to the excitement attendant to recent research and writing by scholars and clinicians. It will provide a forum for examining gender and sexuality that is both multidisciplinary and interdisciplinary. As clinicians and scholars who have written and practiced at the intersection of feminist theory and clinical psychoanalysis, the Editors are especially interested in those areas of controversy that invite the divergent perspectives and insights of different disciplines. Early issues of SGS will focus on transgender identities and intersexuality; contemporary readings of the category of perversion; puberty and adolescence revised and revisited; and the intersections among class, race, and gender in theory, culture, and the clinical situation. The primary goal of SGS is to promote dialogue on these and other timely topics among clinicians, researchers, and theorists. Consonant with this goal, the journal will also publish related work from the humanities, social sciences, and natural sciences, where questions involving gender and sexuality are currently in lively debate."

"Women & Language is an interdisciplinary research periodical and newsletter, associated with the Organization for the Study of Communication Language and Gender, which seeks to provide a feminist forum for those interested in communication, language and gender. It raises questions on the construction of gender and the interconnections among sex, gender, race, class, and heterosexual hegemony with regard to symbolic communications and the impacts of masculinist communication paradigms. Women & Language welcomes completed research, essays, personal narratives, poetry, as well as work in progress and information sharing on conferences, publications, and so on. It includes contributions from all disciplines, and particularly looks for interdisciplinary work."

12 Politics and Power: A Gendered Perspective from South Asia

By Farida Shaheed

The author discusses women's interaction with, and access to, power and politics in the more formalised political process and directly relates these to states and government in South Asia. She also raises some of the issues concerned with the various spaces available to women at different moments, and the strategies used by women activists to increase these spaces. The article also tackles some of the more disconcerting contradictions in this arena.

27 Disempowered Palestinian Girls' Uncommon Death Wishes—Research sheds Light

by Lina Sagaral Reyes

This article discusses why young girls develop uncommon death wishes and become prone to recruitment to become suicide bombers. It is based on findings of a study on the subject by Prof. Nadira Shalhoub Kevorkian of the Hebrew University.

30 Occupied Palestine Territories: "Olive Tree Campaign" Gives Purposeful Hope

By Lina Sagaral Reyes

The Young Women's Christian Association (YWCA) of Palestine is exploring non-violent ways of resisting the continuing occupation of their territories through the "Olive Tree Campaign." YWCA-Palestine works with farmers in the planting and nurturing of olive trees, the universal symbol of peace and peacemaking, and an important source of livelihood for peasants.

33 Why We Shouldn't Become Assassins to Defend Our Honor and Get Justice by Killing Bill

By Marianita 'aka' "Girlie" Villariba

The author shares her reflections as a woman who is discovering the female body and meditation practices. She takes off from how the movie industry constructs and captures perceptions of female bodies, and imposes standards and values such as being attractive, ugly, beautiful, undesirable, or sexy. The article also seeks to help ease the burden of women and help protect their integrity by introducing a body and meditation practice.

38 Resurrecting the Goddess: Exploring Powerful (Re)presentations of Women's Bodies

by Ava Vivian Gonzales

This essay attempts to (re)present ways the female body is (re)presented as both object and subject for the deployment of power in an effort to expand and explode the historical notion of beauty through (re)reading (re)presentations of the goddess. One thing the notion of the goddess offers women is a potent image of beauty permitting uncorseted movement on unbound feet, empowering women to set and achieve unrestricted goals for themselves.

43 Women's Movement and Media in India: Reshaping Notions of Power

by Kiran Prasad

The article analyses the mass media reflection on power relations and struggles within the women's/feminist movement in India, based on some cases that are live issues and which challenge the policy for women's empowerment. The article also highlights new directions for the media to take in order to sustain the momentum of women's struggle for their rights.

13 Still Jewish! Jewish Women in Interfaith Marriages by Jeri Zeder
Plenty has changed since the last century; a new study looks at how Jewish Jewish women feel who choose partners who aren't. Plus...Eve Coulson on two books about interfaith marriage.

18 Children of Holocaust Survivors by Eva Hoffman
The noted author of Lost in Translation explores the Shoah's legacy in the lives of the second generation. She speaks with Carolyn Slutsky on writing about memory and history.

20 In the Hammam: Steam Heat in Tangier by Yaëlle Azagury
Back in Morocco, a first-time visit to the Muslim women's baths delivers Moroccan-born Azagury unexpected sightings of tender friendships (and terrors) that cross religious boundaries.

24 Severance Pay a short story by Marti Zuchrow

The JAP, Reclaim Her? Or Revile Her?

28 Her Hair, Her Shoes, Her Attitudes
Alana Newhouse joins those who laugh a little at themselves, claiming fealty to the JAP as an unabashed consumer—her worldiness somehow entangled in her Jewishness.

31 The Shame of the Jewish American Princess
Miriam Stone argues that the image is a larger-than-life caricature, casting a shadow over women trying to walk the walk as activists for social change.

32 Philosophers with Wombs by Rebecca Goldstein
In which the novelist and philosopher reveals who really makes her feel guilty.

48 They're "Messengers from a New Place" by Elaine Shizgal Cohen
Elaine Cohen and Stephen P. Cohen celebrated the commitment ceremony of their daughter Tamara. Here's how Elaine toasted the couple.

10 Have Our Bodies Changed? by Shala Erlich

Erlich, born in the same year as Our Bodies Ourselves, credits this landmark book with introducing her to sex, strong bodies and medical school. But the world-shaking classic women's health bible at 35 appears in a new edition with some unsettling changes.

18 That Night at the Museum fiction by Dara Horn

You'd think that you could read the thoughts of a twentysomething guy who shows up at a Jewish Museum's singles night. But you'd be very surprised at the truth.

20 Joan Snyder's Passionate Painting

Catch up with the artist who has led the vanguard since feminist art got its label 30 years ago.

24 "We Eat Like on Yom Kippur" by Helene Sinnreich

In the Lodz ghetto under the Nazis, starvation was public policy. Historian Sinnreich finds out what women did—from refurbishing potato peels to harvesting garbage—in the heroic struggle against the savage gnaw of hunger.

27 Two Poems About Israel

Shema a poem by Helena Lipstadt Disputed Ruins (Ours) a poem by Leah Kaplan

28 What Has Made You a Grownup?

Naomi Danis asks 15 writers to name that indelible moment when adulthood struck. Tune in to Anita Diamant, Ruth Andrew Ellenson, Judith Katzir, Nessa Rapoport, Shulamit Reinhartz, Isabel Rose, Fiona Rosenbloom, Danya Ruttenberg, and others. Lilith's 10th annual feminist exploration of books for young readers.

This photo was taken in a market outside Otavalo, Ecuador, by Caroline Brown. She was visiting on her way to fulfilling a lifetime dream of visiting the Galapagos Islands. She noticed that in Ecuador, children accompanied mothers as they worked, marketed and otherwise went about their daily lives. The mothers used fabric slings to carry their small children and infants on their backs. Through an interpreter this mother gave verbal consent for the photograph.

Correction: An article on Andrea Dworkin in the last issue said that she helped Linda Marciano in an unsuccessful lawsuit against the makers of Deep Throat. Actually, Marciano was not able to file a suit under current laws. That's why Dworkin and Catharine A. MacKinnon drafted an ordinance allowing people harmed in or by pornography to sue.

6 GIVING BACK Edie Dillon

A too-close encounter with the sea and an unexpected gift yields a meditation on the nature of fate and reciprocity.

8 BLESSINGS GIVEN AND NOT YET BESTOWED

Leanne M. Schmidt

The realization that I could pray like this, not in supplication but in gratitude, became a gentle wave, washing away my fear.

11 CRONING GLORY Smoky Trudeau

It's true. We do love our hot flashes. Each one is cherished as a rite of passage, an invitation from the Goddess to join Her as crone, a woman of wisdom.

17 LESSONS FROM KALI Heather Lee Maree

On a cold dark night, a rabbit robed in black fur was delivered to our door. Her arrival spurred many questions.

20 GRATITUDE IN THE LAND OF MILK & HONEY

Lauren Sinnott

Unless our fortune is contrasted with something tragic, we can get used to it, even forget it.

25 BRIGIT'S CAULDRON: FULL OF BLESSINGS

Christine Thomas

I asked Brigit how I could make her more present in my life. She told me to light a candle for her every day for three months.
